THE SNOW SHOE REGION

Eighth Installment of Historical Sketch.

A NEW SETTLEMENT

Making of Roads—Square Timber and Log Floating—Villages, etc.

COMPILED BY JAMES GILLILAND

In 1828 the Legislature incorporated a company to make a clay turnpike from Milesburg to Smithport, in McKean county. The route passed most of the distance through a wilderness country, and the stock subscribed was insufficient to make a road on which toll could be collected. In 1842 parties interested in the improvement of the country had an act of the Legislature passed authorizing a subscription of additional stock, and an effort was made to improve and put the road in condition to collect toll on the whole route. Failing in getting additional subscriptions, and the tolls taken on the Snow Shoe section being insufficient to make and keep up the whole route, it has been abandoned as a turnpike, and the townships of Snow Shoe and Barnside keep it in repair within their limits. It is a pleasant road to travel, especially in the summer and autumn seasons.

In 1843 a review was had on the road from the Askey school-house to Big Moshannon, and changed from the route following the Indian path, greatly improving the grades, but still a very unfavorable route. The court confirmed the report of the viewers, but, as the few settlers had not yet been fired up with a spirit of improvement, no effort was made to open the road for travel, and the Indian path continued to be the great highway to Clearfield county. In 1848 the [illegible] Gilliland & Vandyke on Little Moshannon increased the importance of a road connecting with the adjoining settlements of Clearfield county, and a re-review was had, and the line of road changed so as to avoid some of the steep grades. A road on this route was opened and both the Moshannons bridged. In 1857 James Gilliland and others petitioned the Legislature and obtained an act authorizing a State road from the village of Moshannon to Kylertown, in Clearfield county; John Kyler, of Clearfield county, John T. Hooyer, and James Gilliland, of Centre county, being the commissioners named in the act. James Gilliland, assisted by Evan Buchanan and Evan Valentine, surveyed and graded a route from the village of Moshannon, down Betchtol's Run to Little Moshannon Creek, and thence down said creek to its junction with the Big Moshannon, and thence, crossing said last-named creek, to Kylertown. This has proved to be the very best route for a road, the grades nowhere exceeding five degrees. The counties of Centre and Clearfield have erected a first-class iron bridge over the Big Moshannon at a cost of $2,000. After some further improvement is made on the Snow Shoe part, it will be one of the most pleasant roads in the country to travel.

The Karthaus road, after crossing Beech Creek, passes the whole distance on the summit, the sources of the streams on the one side emptying into Beech Creek and the Susquehanna River, and on the other into Little and Big Moshannon creeks. At several points, when not obstructed by the unbroken forest near the road, the traveller has extensive views of the country on either side—the most attractive of which are at D. H. Yeager's, J. H. Holt's barn, and at Doctor Stewart's. The two roads above mentioned are the most important. Others have been made from time to time, as the country opened and advanced in improvements.

SQUARE TIMBER AND LOG FLOATING.

The first rafting of square timber was by Jacob Kunes and William Mulhollan, and was sold at Marietta for three cents per foot. After 1847 all who owned or could control timber engaged to a less or greater extent in the business.

The first men to float saw-logs into booms, on the Susquehanna River, were Barton and Barrows, in the spring of 1850 or 1851, off a tract of land which E. C. Barton purchased from Judge Hale and James Gilliland, on Betchtol's Run, now owned by Patrick Ward and others. Floating loose logs interfered with rafts, and caused trouble and loss to those who were engaged in that business; hence much hostile feeling existed and was shown to the log-men. Experience having demonstrated that floating is the most practicable way of getting much of the timber to market, many who were opposed are now engaged in the business.

VILLAGES.

The town of Moshannon was laid out in 1849 by Gilliland & Vandyke. The first house built was by George Breon, now owned by the heirs of Edward Ide; the second was by Archy Dean, on a lot donated to the Presbyterian Church by Gilliland & Vandyke for the purpose of erecting thereon a sexton's house. The Moshannon mills and tannery having been destroyed by fire, and not rebuilt, Moshannon is at a stand still, and will remain so until some new enterprise is started. It is beautifully situated, and occupies as to territory a central position. The Indian path passed through it near the centre; the Ide house is on it, and at this point the trees for some distance around bore marks of the Indians, indicating that it was a stopping-place where they loitered around.

The Great Centre Co. Fair is Next.

The annual picnic of the Grangers being over there is but one more great event of the fall season in the county to be carried through: The great Centre County Fair.

It will be only a little over a week until the grounds will be alive with people, for everyone is going. You hear more talk of the Fair this fall than ever before. Everybody is expecting something great and nobody is going to be disappointed.

We won't have many more opportunities of telling you about it so let us mention just a few of the features that are sure:

A fine exhibition of the products of the farm and garden in Centre county.

A beautiful display of woman's handiwork in fancy works and the culinary arts.

Every stall and pen in the stock department will be filled. Entries in this department a coming in fast and let us say right here that Wm. Carson says the mare and colt he is going to show will beat anything in the county. Wm. might be fooled because we know of a few other good ones that are to be exhibited at the Fair.

The agricultural machinery exhibit will be the largest ever seen in the county. L. H. Musser, alone, will have three car loads of machinery all set up and running with gasoline engines. For his display alone it will require two special tents 120x40 ft.

For the first time a candy cotton machine will be seen on the grounds. With this novelty pure sugar is poured in the hopper and great billows of a snowy, cotton like sweets that are most delectable are turned out.

The Musical Reikarts, the cleverest team of Vaudeville artists playing under canvas, will be on the grounds.

Lashell's snake and wax figure show will be one of the attractions.

Madame Lockart, the most successful balloonist in the country will make an ascension every afternoon.

The free stage attractions will be marvelous this year; something as fine as can been seen with the highest class circus. George and Harrington the eccentric comedy tripple horizontal bar experts, Wm. La Bell, comedy juggler and hoop expert, Mr. and Mrs. Marrion, comedy revolving ladder trapeze and Kurtis' Original Novelty Dog Circus.

The Coleville band will give concerts on the ground, daily, from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 5. The regular band contest that was proposed for one day of the fair has fallen through because only two bands entered, the Coleville and Milesburg. The Fair association had offered $300 in cash, think of it, as prizes for this contest and only two bands in the county were interested enough to try for it.

The race for county horses is going to be a sure thing, however, and there will be lots of fun in that. There are four or five entries already and all the fellows who have horses that can go a little are wanted. Understand this race is not for race horses, but only for driving horses and will be driven in four wheeled wagons, not sulkies.

Another new feature has been proposed within the past few days and is now being worked up. If it is successfully carried out it will be one of the funniest events of the fair. It is to have a fantastic parade. The Association will probably offer a handsome cash prize for the most geotesque costume. The fantastics will parade around the entire track headed by a band. An effort is now being made to interest these famous fun makers in Nittany Valley and out at Pleasant Gap in this feature and if a they join in it will be a go, sure, but remember it will be open to everyone. Call the Fair Headquarters on the phone if you want to know more about it.

Look out for the papers next week to see the final summing up of all the attractions that will be seen on the grounds. The fair people declare they do not want to misrepresent a single thing and you can count on seeing just exactly what is advertised.

THE GRANGER'S PICNIC.

Big Encampment and Fair in Progress

AT CENTRE HALL, PA.

It is the 32nd Gathering of Centre County Grangers—Larger and Better than Ever.

A VISIT TO THE TENTED CITY.

The 32nd Encampment and Exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county is now in full blast at Grange Park, Centre Hall. The prospects for a successful week are much brighter than in years gone by.

The encampment opened Saturday the 16th and every tent on the ground was engaged and the majority occupied on Sunday. All the old tenters were present and many new faces were seen. Saturday evening a grand festival was held by Progress Grange and it was a great success. Sunday the grounds were crowded all day with a lively throng in which many Bellefonte people were noticeable.

The grounds were in splendid condition and vindicated the wisdom of the Grange fathers in selecting this beautiful level spot—the highest point in the county by the way—for their annual outing. A beautiful green sod has sprung up to take place, the wheat stubbles of yore and the shade trees planted are beginning to add beauty to the place. The arrangements of the camp have been greatly improved over former years with new furniture and every convenience possible. A department for checking your parcels and baggage has been added which is a great improvement. The grounds are splendidly policed and patroled night and day and the best of order reigns.

The heads of the various departments of the Encampment and fair are as follows:

L. Rhone, Centre Hall, chairman.

D. M. Campbell, Linden Hall, Secretary County Grange

George Dale, State College, R. F. D., Superintendent of Implement Exhibit.

Geo. L. Goodhart, Centre Hall, Supt. of Agricultural Exhibit.

Nathan Grove, Lemont, assistant to Mr. Goodhart.

John S. Dauberman, Centre Hall, Supt. of Improvements

Geo. Gingerich, Centre Hall, Supt. Farm Stock Exhibit

Cyrus Brungart, Centre Hall, Supt. Poultry Exhibit.

Geo. Nearhood, Centre Hall Supt. of Illumination.

Dr. John Riter, Centre Hall, Chief of Police.

Miss Florence Rhone deserves to be mentioned in this list for the acts as secretary to her father and renders most valuable assistance.

The boarding house this year is in charge of D. C. Keller and wife and their son, Roland, which is a sure guarantee that it is all right. Wednesday they serve a chicken dinner and Thursday a good old fashioned turkey dinner.

The Harvest Home services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:20 and were conducted by Dr. James W. Boal, of Centre Hall and preached the anniversary sermon. The music was very fine and was conducted jointly by the choirs of all the churches of Centre Hall. There was a large attendance and the services proved interesting and inspiring.

Monday was given over entirely to setting up the exhibits and getting things in shape.

The following is the list of tenters at the 32nd Encampment and Exhibition, Patrons of Husbandry at Centre Hall:

Centre Baptist Association.

As the time draws near for the 75th anniversary of the Centre Baptist Association at Milesburg Oct. 3rd, 4th and 5th. The interest likewise increases. Pastor Lathrop and his people at Milesburg are alert and active in their preparations for its coming. The interior of the church has been repaired and repainted. Twenty-five years ago this association celebrated its 50th anniversary at Milesburg. The sessions begin with the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Mrs. K. A. Lovell, of Huntingdon and Mrs. Koonis, of Lewisburg, and others. The speakers for the evening session are Mrs. H. N. Jones, of Philadelphia, and Miss Harriet Cooper, of New York. Among the leading events of Wednesday are the Associational sermon by Rev. H. C. Broughton, and addresses by Dr. J. S. James, of Altoona, Dr. S. F. Fergens, of Huntingdon, Miss Ella MacLaurin, of Boston, and Dr. Owen James, of Johnstown. On Thursday we note the names of K. A. Lovell, Esq., of Huntingdon, Dr. Leroy Stephens, of Lewisburg, Rev. E. C. Houck, of Westoven and Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, Ph. D., of Williamsport. About 100 delegates are expected. Orders for excursion tickets can be secured from Mr. Edward Bell, of Sabbath Rest, Pa.

Goff—Davidson.

Tuesday aforenoon the home of Rev. A. Davidson, pastor of the local U. B. Church, was the scene of a pretty, though quiet little wedding, the bride was Miss Mary A. Davidson and the groom Rev. W. Roy Goff, of Pittsburg. The room was artistically decorated with flowers, and the ceremony was performed by the bride's father assisted by Rev. Robert C. Freeman, of Princeton, N. J. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Davidson and Wm. Davidson, of Curwensville; Thomas Davidson, of Philipsburg, Rev. S. May Whitehead, of Bellwood, and Miss Elsie Treese, of Wilmore.

Mr. Goff has just returned from an extended trip in Europe and the Orient. The bridal party left on the afternoon train for an extended wedding trip through western cities.

—Curtis Taylor, who has been driving the Adams Express wagon at this place, has been promoted and is now express messenger between Tyrone and Lock Haven. His place on the wagon is being ably filled by Fred Lane.

—Mr. M. C. Gephart wishes us to state that he does not contemplate making any change in his business in Bellefonte as reported, but they have discontinued house-keeping and will board in the future. Mrs. Gephart's mother has moved to Philadelphia.

SNOW AT KANE WEDNESDAY

Various Places in New York State Report Heavy Frosts.

WEATHER WAS COLD

In Cape Cod Towns it Was Very High Wind That Saved the Cranberry Crop—Snow in Northern Vermont.

MANY CROPS ARE IN DANGER.

Kane, Pa., September 15.—Half an inch of snow fell here Wednesday night and Thursday morning. At other places along the Philadelphia and Erie railroad line snow flurries are reported. The weather is decidedly cold.

Syracuse, N. Y., September 15.—The weather Thursday was clear, but cold. Beginning Wednesday night the temperature took a decided drop, and it was the coldest night of the present season. Frost is reported throughout this section, resulting in damage.

Buffalo, N. Y., September 15.—A blast of wind struck Buffalo Wednesday night. There was a little frost in the city and vicinity. The cold weather continues today, but the sky is cloudless.

Saratoga, N. Y., September 15.—The temperature in this section took a decided drop Wednesday night and this morning there is a suggestion of fall. The air is keen and invigorating. In some of the lowland places slight frost is reported, but no material damage was done.

Geneva, N. Y., September 15.—A cold wave descended on this city and vicinity and gardeners and florists report the first frost of the season Thursday morning. It was a nipping frost that brought fear for the safety of the crops.

Boston, Mass., September 14.—Only the high wind which prevailed all night saved the cranberry crop in the Cape Cod towns by destruction from heavy white frost which, as the result of the sudden and unexpected drop in the temperature, has covered the lowlands of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts like a sheet. Snow fell in Northern Vermont. In northern New Hampshire it rained heavily, the rain being followed by a sudden drop in the temperature of thirty-three degrees, and Thursday the entire White mountain district is especially deserving of the name, for it is white with heavy frost. The freezing point was reached at Augusta, Me., Concord, N. H., and Fabyans, N. H.

Lost His Pocketbook.

D. Harry Shivery, the dairyman, is out about $168, owing to the loss or theft of his pocketbook. He came to Bellefonte from his Buffalo Run home, last Friday evening. He purchased some hardware at Olewine's hardware store and paid for it, and that is the last time he recalls seeing his pocketbook. He went home and when he undressed to go to bed hung his trousers up in a closet. Saturday evening he put on the same pair of trousers and came to Bellefone but when he come to look for his pocketbook it was missing.

Whether he lost it in Bellefonte, on the road up Buffalo Run or about his home; or whether it was stolen he knows not. But he does know that the pocketbook is missing and with it a one hundred dollar gold certificate, thirteen five dollar bills, a two dollar bill and about a dollar in change. Mr. Shivery has supicions as to the whereabouts of the pocketbook and money and the person who has it will save himself trouble by returning same.

Rev. Aikens Hurt.

While leading a horse into his stable on Thursday Rev. C. T. Aikens of Pine Grove Mills, was kicked in the small of the back by one already in the stall and severely hurt. Dr. Woods is attending him.

MARRIED—William F. Robison, of Franklinville, and Miss Margaret Miller, of Pine Grove Mills were married Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. J. A. Wood.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Business of Importance Transacted by Borough Fathers.

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council was held on Monday evening commencing at 7:30 with President Jenkins in the chair. The other members present were Messrs. Kirk, Brown, Fenlon, Seibret, Wise and Keichline.

Treasurer Barnhart, Solicitor Fortney and Supt. Ryan were present and made their reports.

The matter of extending water to some families in Coleville was left in the hands of the Water committee with power to act. A plug on North Thomas street is to be tapped and pipes run out to the boro line. The property owners will lay the pipes from boro line to their premises.

The borough solicitor submitted an opinion in regards to the exoneration from taxes of Petrikin Hall. This property is owned by a corporation "The Woman's Christian Temperance Union." The Boro Solicitor was under the opinion that this application for exoneration did not come under the scope of the laws in these matters and council had no authority to exonerate Petrikin Hall from taxes. He said it was assessed at $8,000 when it was clearly worth from $16,000 to $20,000 and that monies were received from office and household rentals and from a public hall.

The council acting under the opinion of the Borough Solicitor decided they could not grant the exoneration asked by the W. C. T. U.

This was about all the business brought before council and after hearing the bills they adjourned.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn.

S. of V. Camp Organized.

Camp General James A. Beaver, No. 74 Sons of Veterans was organized and installed with impressive ceremonies on Friday evening last in Odd Fellows Hall at State College. For some time past several progressive residents of the town, notably Laird Holmes and George Graham, have been striving to arouse enough interest and enthusiasm for the organization of a camp, and the ceremonies on Friday evening were the culmination of their efforts. Twenty-two "sons" were present and the following officers were installed:—Commander, J. Laird Holmes; Vice Commander, Wm. Thompson; Sec. C. H. Evey; Treas. Geo. T. Graham; Trustees, R. M. Foster, I. C. Holmes and W. M. Sauers.

The installation proceeding were conducted by State Commander, Senator Fred A. GodCharles and Mayor John L. Scott, both of Milton. The meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesday nights of each month and all eligible and interested are urged to attend.—State College Times.

Brown—Koontz.

William Brown and Miss Jane Koontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koontz of this place, quietly slipped away from their friends on Saturday evening and were married at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. John A. Wood, Jr. The bride is one of Bellefonte's popular young ladies, and the groom is in the employ of A. E. Schad. This paper extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

—John Rinker, of Scranton holds, he believes, the world's championship as a beer drinker. Last Friday night he drank on a wager, eight gallons in twenty-eight minutes. He bet he could do it in an hour. Rinker placed a tube in the barrel and, with a large crowd of men and women watching the test, he drank steadily for twenty-five minutes. Then he complained that no more beer came. The keg was tilted and he drained the last drop. So little was he inconvenienced that he stood at the bar and drank several glasses.

RUMOR DROVE GIRL TO DEATH

New York Suicide Mystery Cleared Up.

VICTIM IDENTIFIED.

An Untrue Newspaper Story Alleging She Had Eloped With a Married Man Preyed on Her Mind.

SHE ENDED ALL IN DEATH;

New York, September 16.—Lorenzo D. Berry, a carpenter of West Medford, Mass., Friday identified as that of his daughter Ella the body of the young woman who committed suicide on Wednesday in the Hotel Manhattan. His son recognized the body as that of his sister. After making the identification the father and son sought Coroner Scholer to secure a permit to take the girl's body back to her home in West Medford for burial.

"The newspapers have done all this," said the father when he was able to control his grief. "My daughter, who was a pure and modest girl, was a stenographer in her home town. A year ago a Boston newspaper published a story that she had run away with a married man. The next day it turned out that she had merely gone on her vacation alone and that she had nothing to do with the married man named in the story, who had disappeared. The newspaper printed a retraction but that did not help my daughter's feelings. The injury done to her was great and she had never recovered from it. She grew more and more downhearted and morose and this, pointing to the coffin in which her body lay, is what that cruel, false, malicious story has brought to her.

"Wherever my daughter would go," said Mr. Berry, "it would seem as if somebody was ready to point to her as a girl who had been mixed up in a disgraceful affair. Then she went away from home to seek employment in other cities. She would be a short time in a place when the story would reach the ears of her employer, and she would be told she could not remain. This happened several times until my child could not bear it any longer."

Elmer Berry, the dead girl's brother, said that a letter had been received by the family from the girl in which they were notified by her that she had decided to put an end to it.

"I cannot bear this false stain upon my character," she wrote to her father, "and I see nothing else left for me to do than to kill myself. Please forgive me and believe that I would not do this thing if it were not that I am nearly out of my mind with grief and horror at the awful story which everybody seems to think is true."

Mr. Berry said that his daughter left her home in West Medford on Tuesday last, coming to New York on a Fall River line steamboat. He said that he received a telegram from her Wednesday morning but he refused to say what were its contents. She registered at the Manhattan Hotel Wednesday under the name of "A. W. Wildey, of Washington," and that night killed herself with poison and pistol leaving a note to the effect that her body would be called for.

Blames Her Six Pair of Twins on a Wish.

Having given birth to her sixth pair of twins, Mrs. Allen C. Deppe of Hickory Run, Carbon county, thinks she has escaped from the toils of a strenuous fate, which has held a grip on her for more than 20 years.

It is said that when she was married the wish was made by her husband that she should become the mother of twins six times, and she has fulfilled this desire to the limit. In addition, she has contributed eleven other members to the family, one at a time, and of the 23, 19 are living.

The family lives in a remote settlement in Carbon county. Deppe is 44 years old and his wife is 41. They were married twenty-two years ago. There have been eight sons and fifteen daughters born to the pair, two sons and two daughters having died.

The father of this interesting brood is a famous berry picker and is employed as section foreman on the Lehigh Valley railroad. He is a church deacon, and is superintendent of the Sunday school, his own family furnishing the majority of the scholars.

Stop! Listen !! Think !!!

It's high time the people of this land of ours stop long enough in their mad grab after the Almighty dollar, to do a little common sense thinking Day after day we hear the doleful cry about the rich getting richer and the poor becoming poorer, while the press is tearing its hair about trusts, monopolies, etc. The worst of it is, that there is plenty of trusts on which to base all this, and yet no one stops long enough to consider where the blame all lies. We point our guns at causes far away, and look for flaws in the distant skies, when the primary cause of it all lies right at our own doors. When you see a man growling about hard times, pointing his finger of envy at every prosperous man, look closer, and you'll see his pocketbook with the strings reaching to the hand of some Mail Order house. When he has something to sell, does he sell to the Mail Order house and get his living that way. You bet he does not. Why? For the very best reason in the world. The Mail Order firm doesn't buy from him In fact would kick him out the door if he went to their establishment to sell his products. Where do these great firms do their buying? In the sweat shops, and in foreign countries What is the result? The poor deluded man Who buys from them sends his money away from his community, and the Mail Order house sends it out of the land. Money gets scarce of course how can it be other wise? When we send all our money away, and none of it ever comes back.

One mail order firm in Chicago receives in a single day one fifth of all the business mail that enters that great city; in other words almost four hundred thousand people sending their hard earned money to the pockets of two or three men every day! How long at that rate until we be obliged to pay for everything we need, just what we pay for oil just what the Standard Oil Company says we must pay. In other words we are building up a trust that will sooner or later choke the life out of our nation, and are doing it as fast as we can, heedless of the lesson of the past Stand by your home merchant, and keep your money in your own community. Help to kill this new, most dangerous monopoly of all and do it now

State Health Commissioner Dixon is Taking Precautionary Measures.

State Health Commissioner Dixon is taking precautionary measures to prevent an epidemic of smallpax in Pennsylvania during the coming winter by notifying principals and teachers in charge of schools that the compulsory vaccination act of 1902 must be rigidly enforced. This act requires principals and others in charge of public, private, parochial, Sunday or other schools to refuse admission to any child to the schools under their charge or supervision except upon a physician's certificate that such child has been successfully vaccinated, or that it has previously had smallpox. Dr. Dixon is now sending from the department a personal letter to the secretary of every local board of health in the state, calling his attendance to this provision which requires health authorities to furnish to persons in charge of schools blank certificates to be filled out, showing whether or not the school children have been vaccinated Letters are also being sent to secretaries of school boards, asking them to see that every person in charge of a school is informed of the vaccination law, and is supplied with the necessary certificates, and also to each principal or teacher, calling attention to the vaccination law and its penalties.

Black Walnut Lumber.

M. A. Schlientz, of Barnesville, Ohio, has been in South Danville for several weeks buying up black walnut timber, which is very rare and valuable, with the idea of shipping it abroad where it is used in the production of fine wood work. Mr. Schlientz has been very successful during his stay in that vicinity and has gathered together nearly 7,000 feet of the timber, which is stored along the Pennsylvania tracks near South Danville. Mr. Schlientz has about finished his work and will ship the lumber this week to the coast from which it will be sent to Germany. In this part of the country black walnut is very rare, the trees being very few and far between. Mr. Schlientz has covered the country on both sides of the river within a radius of twelve miles of Danville. He pays about $25 per thousand feet for the timber standing. He then fells the tree and hauls it to his temporary headquarters where the logs are trimmed and shipped. Black walnut is used in making furniture, gun stocks and other kinds of wood work. For years the supply has grown more limited until good timber trees are exceedingly rare. Capt. Wall of Lewisburg has been gathering black walnut timber for a number of years, and there is very little left in this vicinity. Cappy has a tab on every available tree standing within a radius of ten miles of Lewisburg.

CASTORIA.

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked in her nervous system, the general effect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night" and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I feel more than grateful to you for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Ervie R. Woodin, of Millerton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., care of Box No. 1. "For a number of years I had been troubled with female weakness, nervous headache, irregularity, restlessness at night, and, in fact was all run-down, but after taking three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' feel that I am entirely cured. I have no more nervous headaches, and rest very well at night; in fact, feel like a different person, thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I earnestly advise all who suffer from any similar troubles to write to Dr. Pierce at once. They will not regret it."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.
Just commenced in the New York Family Story paper

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thougnt came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER.

It's Dangerous To Doubt.

You have no right to doubt a thing that has been tested and found to rest on fact. Vin-te-na has cured so many people in so many parts of the country that it is really unjust to predict a failure in any case that has gone beyond the power of medicine.

Vin-te-na purifies the blood and makes the nerves strong and steady. It not only cures disease but safeguards the system against every form of germ disease. Most all diseases are rooted in the blood. Vin-te-na cures the very cause of all blood disorders by destroying the impurities in the blood and giving it purity and warmth. Get it and be strong.

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Meeting of Railroaders.

Deep Fill Lodge, No. 552, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, of Tyrone, held two special meetings in the Undine Fire company's hall Sunday for the benefit of local members who seldom have an opportunity to attend a meeting. The Tyrone party was met at the train by a committee of Bellefonte firemen, and taken to the Haag hotel, where landlord Moesbarger had prepared an elegant dinner for them, and eighteen of these "Knights of the Scoop" sat down and ate a most hearty meal. At the afternoon meeting two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order, viz: Walter Tate, of this place, and a Mr. Klechner, of Snow Shoe. A real goat took a part in the ceremony. The meeting was conducted by Mr. H. N. Stewart, master of the Tyrone lodge, and he was ably assisted by Mr. John Priest and Mr. Trimble, of the same place. There are about twelve members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen located here, and they represent lodges from Tyrone, Sunbury and Jersey Shore. The engineers belonging to the Brotherhood were invited to dinner by the boys, and all report having had a most enjoyable and profitable day.

ARE PLEDGED TO REFORMS

Republicans For Personal Registration and Other Popular Measures.

The Committee of Twenty-one, leading business men, bankers, lawyers and other men of affairs of the Quaker City, all members of the famous Union League, who seek reform within the Republican party, are being complimented by Republicans generally for their success in bringing about the action of the Republican city committee in appointing a committee to seek to put an entirely new ticket of eminently acceptable Republican candidates in the field in Philadelphia and the pledging of the party organization to personal registration for the cities and for ballot reform and other measures demanded by the people.

Republicans who believe in their party strongly protest against the actions of those who strive to make political capital against the Republican party in the state out of conditions in the Quaker City. On this point the Philadelphia Inquirer, among other things, says:

"If there has been crime committed against the people of Philadelphia the people will demand punishment and punishment will come. No right-minded citizen of any party or political organization would for a moment shield a criminal or a criminal conspiracy or a criminal organization, political or otherwise. Certainly the great Republican party of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania—and hundreds of thousands of voters compose it—is not the defender of wrong-doing.

"To what extent the newspaper charges are true—whether the crimes that have been alleged are largely imaginative or are based upon fact—we do not know. The courts will decide that—should there be trials. But even were they blacker than have been painted, what argument would that be for smashing the great Republican party of Pennsylvania? What have the hundreds of thousands of Republican citizens to do with the acts of individuals?

"A year ago the whole country was ringing with exposures of crimes in the postoffice department at Washington. Republican officials were the thieves. Democratic newspapers and orators held these crimes up as a reason why the Republican party should be defeated. Judge Parker led the assault. 'Turn the Republican party out and all would be well.' That was the campaign cry. But the people refused to hold the Republican party responsible for the pilferings of individuals.

"Today there are scandals in the agricultural department. A sweeping investigation will be made. But are the Republican people of the United States going to hold themselves responsible for what a few persons have been doing?

"Why, then, is the Republican party of Pennsylvania to be slaughtered because of an investigation in Philadelphia?

"That is what the Committee of Twenty-one, members of the Union League, want to know, and we think they have the right of it.

"They believe that the Republican party is quite big enough to do all the reforming that is necessary. With voting lists purged of bogus names, with the promise of a personal registration law on the statute books, with an election in November that will be perfectly honest, with a Republican city ticket to be made up of names unconnected with politics—in other words, with reforms instituted by the Republican party itself—they seee no reason why the hundreds of thousands of honest, upright Republican voters of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania should cut the throat of their own party.

"And there is no reason."

SUNDAY REPORT!

Two Deaths From Yellow Fever in New Orleans Sunday.

TWENTY-FOUR CASES

Work of Fumigation is Being Rigorously Pushed and This Makes Matters Better.

HOPE FOR STILL BETTER RESULTS

New Orleans, September 18.—Reports to 6 p. m. Sunday: New cases, 24; total to date, 2,571. Deaths, 2; total 335. New foci, 6. Under treatment, 323. Cases discharged, 1,913.

The Sunday reports are usually lighter than the week day reports, but it was not expected that the report would run as low as it did. This leads to the hope that the reports this week will be much lighter than they were last week. The heavy last week is attributed to the fact that every ten or twelve days there is a marked increase in the number of new cases, recrudescence from fever which was not originally known. This is fortunate in that it enables the authorities to trace these cases to the original focus in the locality and by thorough fumigation eradicate the source of infection. The success is wiping out cases of infection in certain localities, after the original focus in that locality has been discovered and properly treated, has been the source of a renewal of confidence in the ultimate outcome. Among the new cases is Dr. C. M. Shanley, of Barataria, in Jefferson parish. He came to this city Sunday morning and was taken to the Emergency hospital. He has only a light case. Two cases were reported from the Charity hospital, which came from Starder, La.

Past Assistant Surgeon Corput returned from Donaldsonville and Baton Rogue and says he traced the Baton Rogue case to infection from New Orleans. He found no other cases there. He has established a hospital at Port Barrow, just across the Bayou from Donaldsonville, and has hopes of eradicating the infection at that place.

The list of new cases Sunday is the lowest since July 31.

The state board is in receipt of requests from several localities in the state asking that experts be sent to diagnose suspicious cases of fever and efforts are being made to comply with them all. Some of these come from sections of the state which have heretofore been free from infection.

The country reports were: Kenner, seven new cases, one death; La Fourche Crossing, two new cases; La Rose, one death; Tallulah, nine new cases, Barataria, six new cases; Terrebonne (two days), twenty-two new cases.

Pensacola, Fla., September 18.—The yellow fever situation here showed improvement Sunday, no new cases being reported at the state board of health headquarters. Only one new suspicious case was discovered during the day and that is in the infected district.

First Frost of Fall.

The first frost of the season accompanied the drop in temperature Wednesday night. No frost has been reported in this city, but in some of the higher districts, the roofs and walks were white with frost but no damage was done. Fall is here sure enough.

EDITORIAL.

CYRUS HALL of Philipsburg, Republican candidate for Recorder is entitled to the support of every Republican voter. He is a young man of ability and character and if elected will make a competent official.

EARLE C. TUTEN should have your support for Register. He is a reputable, competent young man. Influential friends have not kept him in office for almost a quarter of a century; he therefore asks the support of the voters.

HENRY KLINE, our candidate for sheriff needs no introduction to the farmers and laborers of Centre County. He is a whole souled, all around man, one in whom the voters can place the most implicit confidence and know that the responsibility placed upon him will get his undivided attention and thereby save the county much money.

Voters under the reign of a Republican board of commissioners your taxes have been reduced and work of a durable character done. Do you want to make a change and put things back in the same old rut. If not vote for Miller and Bailey for commissioners. They have been tried and not found wanting.

LINCOLN SWARTZ, the friend of toil, a farmer by occupation, is entitled to your support on Election Day. He is competent and when he grasps your hand it is with true friendship not for your vote. Mr. Swartz, is the Republican candidate for County Treasurer. He is an honest, hard-working farmer and a self made man. The kind the voters want to fill the various offices this fall.

[illegible]man is sometimes a desperate [illegible] bully is always a coward.—[illegible].

ONLY PROSPERITY IN SIGHT.

The business situation of the country as a whole was, perhaps never more satisfactory than at this present hour. It has been good in almost every line of trade since the beginning of the year, and before, and has shown no signs of weakness anywhere that amounts to anything. Mills and factories are busy all the way between Maine and Missouri. There has been no time within recollection when so few men who cared to work were idle. Indeed it is something strange to hear that any are idle. Every one can remember times when there was complaint in every corner of the land because of the silent mills and factories, and of thousands of persons who were unable to get anything to do. To-day just the reverse of all this is seen the country over.

Next to plenty of work is the question of wages. Little work always means low wages, while an abundance of work means just the reverse. That is the situation today. Perhaps better pay, as a rule, than now prevails the county over was never known. Especially is this the case in all mechanical industries, in many of which they are unusually high.

Large crops have always been regarded as the main source of business prosperity and public confidence. This year our country has been abundantly blessed in this particular. Taken as a whole, they are the largest in our history. Plenty of food at reasonable rates is assured to all who care to work for it. There will probably be more money for the agricultural community this fall and winter than it ever had before. There can be no surer evidence of our national prosperity than that. We ought to be satisfied.

On all sides, therefore, the signs are promising. The reports from the great business centers are most assuring. The fall trade is already in full swing and the outlook encouraging to an unusual degree.

There is confidence in the business world that these conditions will continue for some time to come. There is no reason to think otherwise. There are no indications in the business sky of impending trouble from natural causes. Everything is serene and unusually promising. Trouble can only come if men strive voluntarily to end this satisfactory state of affairs by striving after more than attainable, and in that way disturb existing relations and conditions, only to find that, like the dog in the fable, they have lost all through their greed.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The Democratic papers of the county are making a united effort to bring reproach upon our present board of County Commissioners Messrs. Bailey and Miller with the hope that it will result in their defeat at the polls this fall. The charges made have no real foundation to rest upon and are only made to mislead and confuse the voter, a lot of political "clap trap" often resorted to, to win an election without, or regardless, of real merit. Such campaigning by the newspapers is no new feature in our local political contests and really should deceive no one or in any degree change results. Now! There are four candidates asking your support two Republicans and two Democrats, three must be elected. All the candidates, we believe are honest men, and if elected would make faithful public officials so the question resovles itself into this simple proposition. Which three will you choose and it will be decided if the voters are honest and not influenced by unfair arguments in the man who has the largest following of personal friends.

If the republican ticket is to succeed Bailey and Miller with one democrat will be elected and with such a result the people will be certain of an honest and efficient conduct of the county affairs.

—On their way home from the Granger's picnic the Media Dramatic club, under the management of Will Flack, formerly of this place, will stop in Bellefonte and on Friday night, Sept. 22nd, will play "Alabama," at Garman's

DISGRUNTLED COMBINE

Leading Men In Lincoln Party Were Turned Down For Office.

ARE NOW OUT FOR REVENGE

Republican Chairman Andrews Receives Reports That Show Party Wreckers Will Be Ignominously Routed.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.

There has been a clearing of the political atmosphere in the last few days. The Republican managers have every reason to be elated over recent developments. The substitution of an entire new set of local Republican candidates, after the voluntary withdrawal of the original nominees in the interest of party harmony has had a far-reaching influence toward cementing and strengthening the Republican forces in this city.

The selection of Dr. Neff, a prominent member of the Union League and medical director of the Jefferson Hospital, for sheriff, the renomination of Coroner Dugan, in response to the request of many citizens, the naming of William Emsley, an ex-department commander of the Grand Army, and Howard A. Chase, another leading member of the Union League for commissioners, has given the Republicans a ticket of which they may well be proud.

Steps will be immediately taken for an aggressive local campaign, and there is no doubt of the election of the entire Republican ticket by a large majority.

Disappointed Office-Seekers.

From the interior counties Chairman Wesley R. Andrews, of the Republican state committee continues to receive the most gratifying reports.

The so-called Lincoln party has been demonstrated to be little more than a combination of office-seekers. Their efforts to draw votes from the Republican ticket will not have substantial results.

An idea of the character of the men in the movement may be formed from the fact that H. C. Niles, of York, who figures as state chairman, was twice defeated for the Republican nomination for superior judge. When he presented resolutions in the York county convention in line with the platform of the Lincoln party he got but three votes in favor of them, and one of these votes was his own. George E. Mapes, the secretary, has been voting against Republican candidates for years. Former Senator Emery, of McKean, was defeated by the Republicans when he ran as an independent candidate for congress, and he has never forgotten or forgiven the leaders of the Republican organization who defeated him. He is out for revenge. Charles Heber Clark, of Montgomery, who presided over the Lincoln party convention, is disgruntled because President Roosevelt declined to appoint him to a position in the department of commerce and labor. Clark has been fighting the Republican party for years. He is a pronounced free silverite. Former Congressman Brumm, of Schuylkill, another conspicuous figure among the Lincolnites, has a record as an original Greenbacker. He was an applicant for position under McKinley and Roosevelt and was turned down. He now, too, wants to reform the Republican party.

Former Congressman Thropp, of Bedford county, who was chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Lincoln party, is a disappointed and disgruntled office-seeker. He was turned down for re-election to congress by the Republicans of his district, and he has ever since been working against Republican nominees, but he has no following at home.

These are but a few of the men who are running the Lincoln party. Their only hope for recognition in the future line lies in the disruption of the Republican party.

The loyal Republicans of Pennsylvania will not permit them to succeed in their party-wrecking campaign.

They will snow them under in an avalanche of Republican ballots in November.

Lurking Danger.

A farmer who was much troubled by trespassers during the nutting season consulted with a botanical friend. The botanist furnished him with the technical name of the hazel, and the farmer placed the following notice at conspicuous points about his premises:

"Trespassers take warning! All persons entering this wood do so at their own risk, for, although common snakes are not often found, the Corylus avellana abounds everywhere about here and never gives warning of its presence."

The place was unmolested that year, and the farmer gathered his crop in peace.

A Roomy Hotel.

A story is being told in Athens of an American woman who visited Greece on a cruise of the Mediterranean. When she entered the train at the Piraeus in order to reach the city she was observed by a fellow traveler to be visibly disturbed and was asked to explain the reason for her distress. "Oh," she replied, "I've been wondering what we shall do. I hear we shan't be able to get rooms at the Acropolis, and I don't know the name of any other hotel!"

Love.

George—Are you quite sure that you really love me? Bessie—Oh, yes; certain of it. I never knew any one that could make me so furiously angry at times.—Exchange.

Housework Out of Fashion.

Quite discouraging to all home lovers is the modern tendency among women to disparage housework.

That craft, ancient and honorable, in the best sense of the word, in which woman has always taken delight, now seems to have fallen into disrepute.

Delicate girls prefer long hours over loom or counter, where the air is none too good, and at starvation wages, rather than being a mother's helper, whether it is their own or someone's else mother.

Housework is out of fashion, that is a fact. Women seemed to be seized with nausea when you would talk to them of store room and wardrobe, dishpan and butler's pantry—they will have none of it.

So as a consequence we behold hotel and flat life now in high favor. Clubs and apartment houses, where housework is never mentioned, and with meals taken just where the fancy dictates.

The rich man's tenement house, such are the modern skyscrapers where families live in luxury, tier above tier, and from many of these children are barred, and well for them that they are.

In New York the rates of house rental have so ascended that a private home there is a great luxury—or only to be achieved in the suburbs.

The city home seems to be subsisting now only on sufferance, and the reason is not hard to find when we consider how hopelessly out of fashion is housework.

Yet it must be done, and no machinery or appliance can take the place of a skilful and patient woman's hands.

Hands which disdain not to knead and bake bread, wash and mend clothes, cook serve and afterwards clear away three wholesome meals a day.

Such service done for love's sake is a hallowed one; and the hands are not pretty; but when one considers them in the true light they are wondrous fair to look upon.

The worn hands of a busy wife and mother who disdains not housework in all of its branches, which make for her loved ones a sweet and quiet resting place are more truly beautiful than the finest symmetry of sculpture.

Yet housework is out of fashion—and what is going to be done about it?

The Value of an Egg.

Here are some facts and figures relative to the hen's egg, says Success which may not be without interest to the student of poultry possibilities. Its average length is two and twenty-seven hundredths inches, its average diameter at the broadest end one and seventy-two hundredth inches, and weighs about one-eighth of a pound. The pullets are smaller than those of old hens. The shell constitutes about 11 per cent. the yoke 32 per cent. and the white 57 per cent. of the total egg. Chemically speaking, an egg consists of two nutriments—protein and fat—together with some water and a small quantity of mineral matter. Popular belief to the contrary, there is no difference in the nutritive qualities of eggs with dark shells and those with light. Their flavor is affected by the food of the fowl, for good or for evil. Exhaustive experiments by well equipped investigators prove that the egg deserves its reputation as an easily assimilated and highly nutritious food, if eaten raw or lightly cooked. Such experiments also show that eggs at twelve cents per dozen are a cheap source of nutrients; at sixteen cents, somewhat expensive, and at twenty five cents and over—highly extravagant. The basis of comparison was the market prices of standard fleeh foods considered in relation to their nutritive elements. But there is a physiological constituent of eggs which is of great value, yet it defies the search of the scientist or the inquisition of the statistician, and that is their palatability. Unless a food, however rich in proteins is relished, it loses much of its value, while, per contra, a less chemically desirable food that is enjoyed becomes valuable by reason of that fact.

Murdered Girl Identified.

New York, Sept. 18.—The body of the young woman found under what is known as the "Haunted Oak," just off Pelham road, in The Bronx, Saturday was identified as that of Augusta Pleiffer, 22 years old, whose home was in Pelham road, only a few hundred yards from the spot where her body lay.

The identification was made through Francis Breiner, the 12 year-old daughter of Mrs. Louise Breiner, with whom Miss Pleiffer was living.

After questioning members of the family and others, the police reached the conclusion that the crime was committed by some one of the rough element in the vicinity. A man and a woman and five boys were held by the police.

Coroner O'Corman early this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of Joseph Girard, a driver, charging him with the murder. The warrant charged Girard with homicide.

A Rare Cat Trapped in Eastern Sugar Valley.

A man [illegible] Brittain, in the eastern end of Sugar valley, one night the past week trapped an American lynx, an animal which has long been believed to have been extinct in this section of the country, and, indeed, extant only in Canada. That the lynx caught by Mr. Brittain had a mate is pretty certain, for the cry of a strange creature was heard the night following, not far from where the lynx was caught. The capture was not without excitement. Brittain was trapping porcupines, with the hope of getting a few unwary wild cats, too. One morning he found one of the traps sprung and moved. The bait was gone, but this trick was so cleverly done that he concluded at once that it had been the work of something more clever than a "porkie." The following night he put a heavier trap in place and fastened the bait—a portion of a calf's head—securely. He wasn't prepared for the surprise that awaited him the next morning. When within sight of the trap he saw an animal as big as a good-sized dog, with close-cropped ears and a visage as keen as the slyest old fox that ever nosed in and out of the Seven mountains. Though Brittain has been trapping ever since he was a boy, he had never seen anything like his prize of this occasion.

The animal, though a prisoner, was brazen as a pirate and was inclined to give battle. It required two shots from a rifle to subdue it. The species of the animal was determined by an old man named Harter, who, 45 years ago, shot lynx frequently in this section.

There is great speculation as to how the stray pair of lynxes got into this section. It is presumed that they came out of the Seven Mountains and Brush Valley district, a section that is extensive and wild enough to have afforded protection for these animals and their forebears ever since the days when their kind were plentiful.

Victim of Foul Play.

Morgan Hertzog, of Altoona, the freight flagman who was found dead along the tracks of the Cresson and Clearfield division of the Pennsylvania railroad, near Bakertown on Thursday morning September 14, was the victim of foul play, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury rendered at Cresson on Friday. Coroner Prothero, of Cambria county, held an inquest and the jury in its verdict fixed the reponsibility of Hertzog's death on some person or persons unknown.

P. F. Lockard, conductor on extra freight train No. 1839, going west; F A. Davis, engineer in charge of the locomotive of the train; Harry Kaylor, trainmaster at Cresson, and Eugene Glass, another railroad employe, were the witnesses to testify in the case and the evidence of all seemed to indicate foul play.

When the body was found it was lying at right angles to the tracks and was decapitated. Davis and Lockard said Hertzog would have been hurled by the engine pilot had he been struck while walking or even sleeping on the rail. They concluded that he had been beaten by an unknown assailant, whose alleged bloody club was found nearby, and had then been laid across the tracks.

There is no clue to the murderer, although several foreigners near Bakerton are being watched because of having shown enmity toward the railroaders in general.

Girl Boils to Death.

Literally cooked from her waist down, Miss Fanlie Wickes, a handsome young woman from Washington, D. C., died at Livingston, Mont., from the effects of falling into one of the famous boiling springs of Yellowstone Park a few days ago.

Miss Wickes was one of a party of eastern tourists who were taking in the wonders of the park.

They were looking at one of the great geysers when a sudden gust of wind blew a sheet of blinding spray into their faces. Miss Wickes took several steps backward in the effort to avoid the wetting and fell into the spring.

It was only waist deep, but the water was bubbling from the excessive heat just as it bubbles in a tea-kettle. The girl screamed with fright and pain. She was rescued in a few seconds, but the damage was done. Her flesh was par-boiled.

She was hurried to Livingston, but physicians were powerless to relieve her suffering.

Miss Wickes was 22 years old.

—Quaker Puffed Rice. It is an acknowledged fact that rice is the most widely used and one of the most healthful food products that nature produces, and Quaker Puffed Rice is the whole of that nutricious grain thoroughly cooked and sterilized the best grade of rice is used—just pure Rice puffed. It is so easily assimilated that a delicate child may eat it without harm. So easily digested that a chronic dyspeptic may eat it and want more. So nourishing and satisfying that the strong, well person thrives on it. For sale at Kelly's 117 High St., Bellefonte, Pa.

STATE COLLEGE OPENS.

About 300 Men in the Freshman Class This Year.

The Pennsylvania State College began its forty sixth academic year on Thursday morning with services in the Auditorium at 8 o'clock. Most of the faculty were in their places on the platform and the attendance of students was very large. The entering Freshman class is in the neighborhood of 300, not very much more than last year but enough to show the continuance of the steady increase which has marked the opening of the last five sessions.

A few new faces were noticed among the instructors. As noted in a previous issue, Messrs. W. S. Ayars and M. C. Benedict will fill the positions in the Mechanical Department formerly occupied by M. A. Harding and W. E. Saunders, Geo. K. Pattee, A. M, Dartmouth '02 is a new instructor in Rhetoric, in place of Mr. Calkins. The Mathematics Department has three new instructors, Messrs. Homer R. Higley, Fred W. Beal, Colgate, '04; and George A. Wittemore, Harvard '03. Mr. Higley has taken courses at Cornell and Pennsylvania. He has worked up the mathematical standing of Stroudsburg Normal and comes here with a high reputation.

Mr. E. A. Gorham '05 in place of Mr. Donald Derickson is the only change in the Civil Department.

The Mining Department has suffered most by changes. Dr. Wadsworth has decided to try a student method of teaching for a time at least. L. B. Smith and R. P. Farrington both '06 will have charge of the mineralogy work. F. A. Dalburg '06 will assist Mr. Linville in the Assaying and Metallurgical work.

As soon as drill is commenced the familiar face and figure of Captain Edward P. Lawton will be missed. His detail here has expired and Captain H. William Hay has been appointed to relieve him.

The dormitories and rooms around town are all well filled, some to overflowing. McAllister Hall, the dining hall, is accommodating close to three hundred and seems to be giving general satisfaction.

Altogether the prospects for a successful school year are very bright. A good many improvements have been made in the buildings and equipment, all tending to increase the scope and efficiency of the work for which State is noted.—State College Times.

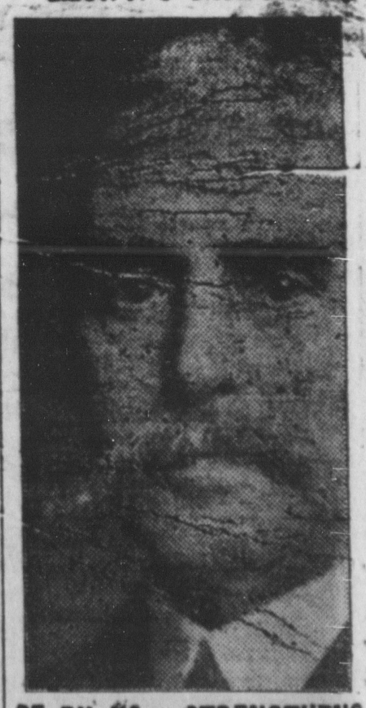
Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

Jim Salerno, the Italian who murdered his ste, daughter, Elizabeth Carney, at Williamsport, on the night of July 24, was Wednesday night found guilty of murder in the first degree.

The case went to the jury at 9.50 and they returned a verdict at 10.50, having been out just one hour.

The verdict was what everyone expected it would be and the only one that could have been rendered in this case.

LIEUT. P. S. DAVIDSON.



PE-RU-NA STRENGTHENS THE ENTIRE SYSTEM.

F. S. Davidson, late Lieut. U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., care U. S. Pension Office, writes:

"To my mind there is no remedy for catarrh comparable to Peruna. It not only strikes at the root of the malady, but it tones and strengthens the system in a truly wonderful way. That has been its history in my case. I cheerfully and unhesitatingly recommend it to those afflicted as I have been."—F. S. Davidson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President, of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MANY INJURED AT HOMESTEAD

The Cause Was the Failure of the Brakes to Work Properly

ACCIDENT NEAR BRIDGE

In All Sixty Passengers Were Bruised and Injured.

SCENE OF GREAT CONFUSION FOLLOWED

Pittsburg, September 14.—Sixty passengers were injured, nine seriously, by the overturning of a trailer attached to a traction car on the Homestead division of the Pittsburg Railways company near the Glenwood bridge early Thursday. The most seriously hurt were:

J. R. Smith, left side badly injured; also hurt internally.

J. A. Evans, side hurt and badly cut and bruised.

Thomas Lower, right leg broken and otherwise injured.

John J. Ottenberger, knee cap painfully lacerated, cut and bruised.

John Jod, side injured.

Andrew Werner, both legs broken.

These were all taken to the Homeopathic hospital, where they will be compelled to remain for some time. The others were able to proceed to their homes, after having their injuries dressed.

The accident was caused by the failure of the brakes to work properly. The car and trailer were crowded to their fullest capacity, many of the passengers being workmen on their way to the various plants in the vicinity. There is a steep grade from the Glenwood bridge to Hays Junction, where cars branch off for surrounding points, and great caution is there used by motormen. The brakes refused to act properly Thursday, however, and the cars descended the grade with unusual speed. At Hays Junction there is a sharp curve. The first car managed to round the curve, but the trailer, carrying sixty passengers, was thrown from the tracks on its side.

A scene of indescribable confusion followed, as the upset trailer was dragged along a considerable distance before the motor car could be stopped.

Every one of the sixty passengers was bruised and injured and it was at first reported that four had been killed. Word was immediately sent to the Glenwood car barns at Glenwood. A special car was despatched to the scene and all the injured removed to the barns, where they received medical attention, and the seriously injured were taken to the hospitals. It is expected that all of the injured will ultimately recover.

A Litter of Puppies Adopted by Old Hen.

Adoption of a litter of fox terriers by an old hen is the peculiar spectacle presented in the home of H. J. Grimm, Los Angeles.

The mother of the puppies is still alive, and wants to care for her offspring, but the hen insists upon taking care of the litter, and has repeatedly driven the mother away. Mrs. Grimm and her chilpren have a strenuous time getting the self-appointed mother away from the puppies long enough for the natural mother to satisfy their hunger.

The old hen not only keeps them under her wing in the literal sense, but she will brook no interference, and the appearance of the pups' mother is the signal for the hen's gallant and always successful charge.

It is Cheaper to Kill than to Save.

[Collier's for September 2 shows to what extent the American railroad operators disregard human life when it says:

Horrible disasters are seldom missing from our enterprising press. The supply is kept up in generous degree by railroads. The grade crossing has the distinction of being as perilous as it is avoidable, but there are plenty of devices almost as full of danger and as free from any excusing need. During the first three months of this year there were 1,787 collisions and 1,321 derailments. It is reckoned that in the state of New York, where there is a law for the gradual abolition of grade crossings an end will come, under the beneficient legislation, when 800 years have passed and 200,000 more individuals have been slain. The block system of signalling, which is in full force in Great Britain and several countries on the continent is almost universally held to be far safer than any merely human agency, and and one of the principal causes of safety abroad. The quality and type of car used in America is also frequently much below what it would be under efficient supervision by the state, and there are a score of undisputed ways in which the excessive danger accompanying American railway travel could be diminished. The only obstacle is the expense to the roads, which find it cheaper to pay what they must for the lives destroyed, after fighting in the courts and compromising with relatives, who have not time, money, or evidence enough for successful legal controversy. Great Britain and Ireland, transporting over a billion passengers, outside of suburban service, to our 750,000,000, killed 26 persons in 1904 to our 4,000, and injured 769 to our 50,000. Railroads in great Britain are not so free as they are with us to conduct their own business as they deem best.

Panthers.

The Panthers, Bellefonte's deer hunting club, after slumbering since their return on December first last with four fine deer, have again begun to stir around and on Monday night held their first meeting for this season, at the Garman house. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, A. L. McGinley; secretary, W. C. Cassidy; treasurer, R. S. Brouse. The several committees necessary to get things in shape for the annual hunt this fall were appointed. Andrew Knisely, of Shamokin, was elected a member of the club which completes the roll of twelve members, the limit of the organization. In addition to transacting the above business a number of other things were discussed, among which was the rendezvous the club will select for their hunt the last two week in November.

Although no action was taken on this matter it is generally understood that they will again go into camp in the Scootac region were they have had such good success in former years.

Dangerous urinary troubles follow.

A Bellefonte citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Frank P. Davis, moulder, of 246 E. Logan St., says: "I used to suffer very much with a weakness of the back and severe pains through my loins. It kept me in constant misery and I seemed to be unable to find any relief, until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. Potts Green's drug store and used them. They reached the spot and in a short time my strength returned. I have never had any trouble of the kind since and am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills not only because they helped me but because I know of others who have also found relief in the same way, and I have yet to hear of a case in which this remedy has failed to give satisfaction."

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Fell Sixty-Five Feet; Fought all the Way.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—"I fell sixty-five feet and bounced off the iron beams of the second and first floors as I went down and I didn't forget what I was doing till I hit the cement in the basement. That put me a little to the bad."

Thomas Dwyer, Sunday, instead of being the guest of honor at a wake, was helping his wife about their home. He says he is "some sore," but can go to work at once.

"How did it feel to fall?" he repeated.

"Well, it's fight. I'm standing spraddle-legged on two beams, swinging a twenty-pound hammer, than a beam that some one is swinging with the crane hits me in the face. I grab for everything in sight, but I'm in the air, and yet I'm fighting.

"It's just like mixing it up with a man. I must put him out, so I feel about the iron beams.

"I do get my arms folded and hooked over one beam. I fight with it till it throws me off. I don't know when I hit the cement. I'm out. See?".

Cured Bronchial Trouble.

Chas. E. Davis, 1071 W. Congress St., Chicago, says: "I suffered for years with bronchial trouble and tried many kinds of medicines without relief, until I began taking Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured me." C. M. Parrish.

Blackbird Loses its Protection by State.

Beginning with Friday of this week, blackbirds may be legally killed in Pennsylvania for the first time since 1878. A protective law was passed at that time which has been in force ever since until the last Legislature enacted its General Game bill.

In addition to the blackbirds, the open season commenced September 1, for these: Railbirds; reedbirds, doves, sandpipers; tatlers, curlews, or any other shore bird; Wilson or jacksnipe, wild geese, wild ducks, brants, swans, coots and mudhens. The open season will continue until January 1 in all cases except that of the jacksnipe, the season for that bird extending until May.

The complete protection was removed from blackbirds by the last legislature because the birds are being killed in the south annually in great numbers. In many parts of the country below the Mason and Dixon line the blackbird is regarded as a pest, and is shot and allowed to rot upon the ground.

In Pennsylvania the birds frequently become a nuisance and the officials deemed it wise to have an open season. Those shot will not be allowed to rot upon the ground, for the Pennsylvania hunters regard the blackbird as a toothsome morsel.

No Unpleasant Effects.

STAND BY ROOSEVELT

Pennsylvania Republicans to Show Their Loyalty to the President.

NOVEMBER'S VOTE TO BE A TEST

Sympathies of the National Administration Are Strongly With the Party Organization In This State.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.

Every vote cast for the Republican ticket in Pennsylvania at the approaching election will not only be a vote of endorsement of Republican principles but a vote of confidence in Roosevelt as well as an additional guarantee to the national administration that the great Republican organization of the Keystone State stands firmly and loyally by the president.

The scandalous conduct of the new insurgent-Democratic combine in Pennsylvania make it essential that the honest Republicans of the state shall assert themselves at the next election.

A member of the Union League has received from President Roosevelt a personal letter which absolutely disposes of the rumors circulated by assistant Democrats in this city and state to the effect that one or more members of the president's cabinet will figure in opposition to the regular Republican cause.

While such reports would ordinarily be regarded as too ridiculous to necessitate denial, the repeated announcements from insurgent and Democratic newspapers that Secretary Bonaparte will make a speech or write a letter to be used in the present campaign in the interest of the anti-Republican candidates prompted the correspondence which brought forth the letter from the president to one of his personal friends in the Union League.

Roosevelt's Interest In Pennsylvania.

Not only does President Roosevelt make it clear that Secretary Bonaparte will not figure in the Pennsylvania campaign, but Republicans who have been curious about the foundation for other stories indicating that the president's sympathies are not fully with the regular Republican organization in Pennsylvania are given no excuse to be longer in doubt as to the attitude of the federal administration on the question of loyalty to the Republican party in the Keystone State.

President Roosevelt fully realizes that the two Republican United States senators and the 31 Republican members of the national house of representatives from Pennsylvania have been heartily in accord with his administration, and they intend to stand by him in his future efforts for the development of the country's resources under Republican policies. He also knows that the present contest in Pennsylvania will have [illegible] for the election of congressmen next year.

Lines Must Not Be Broken.

"Should the Republican lines be broken in Pennsylvania this fall disastrous results would surely follow in the congressional election next year," declared Chairman Andrews, of the Republican state committee. There are several close congressional districts in this state, and it may require the most strenuous work in the approaching congressional campaign to hold Pennsylvania's record of having the largest Republican delegation of any state in the union on the floor of the national house of representatives.

"The great manufacturing and industrial interests of Pennsylvania which are so dependant upon Republican supremacy," continued Chairman Andrews "will not allow factional bickerings or the work of a few aspiring and reckless individuals to imperil the election by a large majority of every one of the candidates on the Republican state ticket next November.

"Insurgent and party wrecking organizations formed to advance the personal interests of a clique of wealthy and ambitious men cannot get a foothold in Republican Pennsylvania this fall to endanger Republican success in the great struggle of next year when the vital interests of the commonwealth will be so deeply concerned."

Gordon-Weaver Combine.

In the Machiavellian game that is being played in this city to further the insurgent movement, former Judge Gordon's fine hand has been disclosed from time to time.

In line with the circulation of reports that Secretary Bonaparte and possibly other cabinet officers would be heard from during the course of the campaign in favor of the so-called "reform" agitation was the attempt to have it appear that President Roosevelt sought a conference with Mayor Weaver on his return visit to Wilkes-Barre.

It is known that this much advertised "conference" had no political significance. The fact is, there was no "conference" between the president and the mayor of Philadelphia upon any subject. Mayor Weaver met the president as thousands of other citizens greeted him during his visit to the coal regions. There was not a second during their meeting at which there were not several other persons present and in hearing distance.

It is now declared that Mayor Weaver's visit to the coal regions was deliberately planned for political purposes by the Gordon outfit, and that the speech which he delivered to the delegates to the convenion of the Catholic Total Abstinence Beneficial Union was carefully prepared with a view to advancing the interests of the men back of the independent campaign city and state.

It has been boldly charged and not denied that Gordon wrote the speech which Weaver made. It was a brilliant literary effort. Weaver is not a good scholar, as texts of his annual reports to councils have shown. No one who knows him can believe he wrote that Wilkes-Barre speech.

The people are beginning to understand the significance of the Gordon-Weaver combination and they are going to vote accordingly.

Gordon represents the old insurgent Democratic combination that has recently been rehabilitated and which is seeking to get control of the Republican organization in Pennsylvania. He is using the patronage of the Weaver administration to that end.

BRAINS AND DRESS.

The Theory That Good Clothes Are Essential to Success.

"The well dressed woman is always a woman of keen intelligence and brain power," argued a well known society leader at a popular woman's club recently. "No senseless doll," she continued, "knows how to dress. She may don gaudy raiment, spend a fortune on a gown so utterly inappropriate to the occasion that one can only feel an intense pity for her, but no one would ever dream of laying the burden of her sin against good form and good taste at the door of the whole of her sex.

"The woman who dresses well, in conformity with her age, her work and her position in society, choosing neither extreme of the prevailing modes, but, striking a happy medium, is the woman who has brains and uses them to make a good selection from the fashions of the day."

And there is no doubt of the truth of this statement, for it is the well groomed, suitably gowned woman who attains success, whether in business or social life.

The age of the blue stocking has passed, and nowadays the woman who dresses unbecomingly through choice and not for the sake of economy is regarded as either mentally weak or as seeking some eccentric form of self advertisement, which is but another phase of unpardonable vanity.

In the commercial world the dowdy, insignificant woman, even if she has mental ability, is at a discount when compared with the well dressed woman, confident and smiling, with bright capacity written all over her comely person.

The latter has learned an essential fact—that confidence is born of good clothes—and therefore with genuine brain power reasons the necessity of making the most of all her good points.—London Express.

DAINTY PIN TRAY.

Make It of Cardboard or of Heavy Water Color Paper.

From cardboard or heavy water color paper cut [illegible] bit larger than a tumbler top, hold it firmly over the tumbler and press into the shape of a little plate by pinching every inch or so bits of the cardboard that extend over the tumbler edge. This gives a little scallop effect. With water colors or gilt paint tint the edge and scatter forgetmenots, violets or stars over the inside, and you have a dainty little pin tray, writes a contributor to Good Housekeeping.

A comb and brush tray can be made in the same manner by pressing the corners into shape over a box cover, book or small meat platter of the desired size. A pretty little puff box can be made by covering with the cardboard one of the pasteboard rolls on which the ribbons are wound, removing one end to be used as a cover. A set of these prettily decorated makes an acceptable gift for a friend who is going to the seashore or mountains for the summer, and as they can be packed perfectly flat they are never left behind for lack of room.

TOILET TIPS.

Don't dry the hands carelessly after washing. Use a soft damask towel or a silk handkerchief and dry thoroughly.

Egg shampoo is made by beating an ounce of water with a raw egg. Massage thoroughly into the scalp and wash the hair without soap.

A little powdered alum thrown into the water in which the hands are bathed will prevent perspiration. This is worth remembering before putting on one's gloves.

A pint of rosewater diluted with a tablespoonful of glycerin forms an excellent preservative for the hands and will keep them smooth and white if applied each time after washing.

Some skins are so fine and dry they will not retain powder, giving the face a shiny appearance. This may be overcome by applying a little oil of sweet almonds rubbed thoroughly into the skin and then a little harmless powder.

A Woman's Work.

A woman has a personal work and duty relating to her own home, and a public work and duty which is also the expansion of that. The woman's work for her own home is to secure its order, comfort and loveliness. The woman's duty as a member of the commonwealth is to assist in the ordering, in the comforting and in the beautiful adornment of the state. What the woman is to be within her gates as the center of order, the balm of distress and the mirror of beauty, that she is also to be without her gates, where order is more difficult, distress more imminent and loveliness more rare.—John Ruskin.

ENGLISH GOLD LEAF.

The Reason Its Manufacturers Pack It In Bibles.

"James," said the English gold manufacturer, "we are hout of Bibles. Go downtown and buy six dozen."

James in due course returned with the Bibles in a handcart. They were taken from him by three men, their covers were torn off, and the pages were trimmed with sharp knives down to a certain small size. Then these little reduced papers were sewed together into a multitude of small books.

The small books were distributed among the hands, and in them the firm's output of gold leaf was packed—between every two Biblical leaves a leaf of gold.

"It seems irreverent, not to say sacrilegious, I know," said the head of the firm, "but we halways do so. We have done so for generations. Gold leaf is halways put on the market in little books made of Bibles.

"Why? I'll tell you why. Gold leaf must be packed between printed instead of plain pages, for the reason that it would slip out of plain pages, which are too smooth for it, whereas the indentations made by the types on the printed pages are just sufficient to hold the leaf in place firmly. That's why printed pages are used.

"We choose among all printed pages Bible ones, for the reason that the Bible is the best printed book a-going. The type is more evenly set, and the printing is finer than in any other work, and we need the best typesetting and printing in our business, you know, for any roughness or unevenness is apt to tear the gold leaf.

"That's why all English gold leaf is packed in Bibles. It's a necessary thing to do, but all the same I've often wondered that the churches 'ave never gotten after us gold leaf manufacturers for our hirreverence."—London Chronicle.

SECRETS OF THE HAND.

Things That Are Revealed to the Touch of the Blind.

The handshake of some people makes you think of accident and sudden death. Contrast this ill boding hand with the quick, skillful, quiet hand of a nurse whom I remember with affection because she took the best care of my teacher. I have clasped the hands of some rich people that spin not and toil not and yet are not beautiful. Beneath their soft, smooth roundness what a chaos of undeveloped character!

All this is my private science of palmistry, and when I tell your fortune it is by no mysterious intuition or gypsy witchcraft, but by natural, explicable recognition of the embossed character in your hand. Not only is the hand as easy to recognize as the face, but it reveals its secrets more openly and unconsciously. People control their countenances, but the hand is under no such restraint. It relaxes and becomes listless when the spirit is low and dejected, the muscles tighten when the mind is excited or the heart glad, and permanent qualities stand written on it all the time.

As there are many beauties of the face, so the beauties of the hand are many. Touch has its ecstasies. The hands of people of strong individuality and sensitiveness are wonderfully mobile. In a glance of their finger tips they express many shades of thought. Now and again I touch a fine, graceful, supple wristed hand which spells with the same beauty and distinction that you must see in the handwriting of some highly cultivated people. I wish you could see how prettily little children spell in my hand. They are wild flowers of humanity and their finger motions wild flowers of speech.—Helen Keller in Century.

A DIFFERENCE IN NAMES.

Some Orders That Puzzled the New York Fish Dealer.

The fish market man glanced at the retreating figure of a lean, lank customer and remarked: "I wish that fellow would learn to talk United States. He comes in here and says, 'Have you any squiteague?' and after awhile I find out he wants weakfish. Then one day he ordered a horse mackerel, and I had to send for a dictionary before I found out that he wanted bluefish. Where did he come from? New England, he says, and calls things by the names they do down there.

"Strange that a few miles should make such a difference in fish names. Why, when he wants a blackfish he calls for tautaug and orders quahuags when he wants clams. He is almost as bad as an Englishman who came into a meat market where I worked once and asked us if we had any savory duck. 'This is no poultry shop,' said I. 'I know it,' replied he. 'Then why do you ask for duck?' said I. 'What do you suppose he wanted? Nothing in the world but hog's pluck, or pig's liver, as the overrefined call it."—New York Press.

Concerning Seasickness.

Two congressmen, discussing the discomforts of travel, happened to branch off on to the subject of seasickness. One of them said:

"Talk about seasickness, the fellow that traveled with me on my last European trip beat anything I ever met in all of my experience before. I tried all sorts of remedies on him, but without avail. He kept repeating, 'Oh, I am so sick, I am so sick.'

"Finally I cried out, 'Can't you keep anything on your stomach?'

"'Only my hands, Tom, only my hands.'"—Harper's Weekly.

Boy's Horrible Death Caused by Bite of Cat.

Samuel Cook, the 15-year-old son of S. E. Cook, a farmer living near Cross Keys, Georgia, died a most horrible death after suffering about eight hours from rabies, supposed to have been caused by a cat bite. The boy complained and asked that a physician be summoned to relieve him of a peculiar suffering which he was unable to explain. He soon afterward asked for a drink of water, and as soon as it had touched his lips, he became wild and was beyond the control of his parents during the remainder of the time. Nearly a dozen physicians were called in, and the general opinion was that the young man was suffering from hydrophobia, and every effort was made to relieve him, but with no avail. He died after a day's suffering, the horrors of which are indescribable.

About three months ago he spent the night with an uncle on his farm, near the home of his parents, and there he was bitten by a cat. He had assisted in milking the cows, and had gone out into the road to return to the house, when he found a stray cat. He picked it up and stroked it, and its seeming hunger caused the cat to lick his hand fresh from the milk. The boy allowed the cat to get hold of his thumb, and in getting away a scratch from the cat's teeth caused the blood to flow. This is supposed to have caused the hydrophobia to set in. No attention was given the bite and it soon healed. There was no evidence of rabies until the day he died.

Penfield Press Irony.

Miss M. S. Nixon, the prepossessing and accomplished editress of the Penfield Press, is a gem of a writer and her profusions are frequently copied by the press generally. Below are some of her latest.

There are good girls and pretty girls and sweet girls and gracious girls, but the cleverest girl in the bunch is the one with a bump of old fashioned horse sense.

There are all kinds of fiends: whiskey fiends, opium fiends, cocaine fiends and numerous others, all of whom are sooner or later disgraced or punished, but the gossip fiend moves right on in respectability and never pays any penalty. There is nothing she will not contaminate with her tongue and while other fiends injure only themselves, the gossip fiend spreads her venom all over a town.

There ought to be some law of nature by which the gossip would "get it in the neck" regularly about once a week.

"The average man comes very near being a blooming idiot," said an observant citizen the other day. You can see him wear a fur cap while his shoes let in snow water. He wears an overcoat on his back with nothing but a thin shirt on his chest. He is mighty sacred about freezing his fingers while his ailing throat is exposed. It's herb tea, root tonic, pine tar cordial or plasters until the balance wheel comes to a stop. Nature wants it kept going but it won't. He drinks whiskey and clogs the valve: he pours down lemonade, buttermilk, ginger ale, tea, coffee and what not and then wonders why the fires under the boilers do not burn. An ox put through the same performance would be dead in a year. The simplest, the plainest laws of health are outraged every hour of the day by the average man. Adam was the first man and was made perfect from head to heel. How long would he have remained so if he had eaten a mince pie before going to bed? Suppose he slept in a room 5x7, with the windows down, the doors shut and two dogs under the bed?

"When you come to look at the way a man behaves himself you can only wonder that he lives to get where he is?"

Negro Kisses a White Girl on Bet.

John L. Fedderman, a negro waiter at Mount Holly inn, a fashionable Baltimore suburban hotel, made a bet of one dollar with another negro that he would kiss any white girl in the place that the latter would point out.

Fedderman carried out his bet, won his dollar, created consternation in the dining room, and was sent to jail for two years for his temerity.

Durham picked out Miss Mary White who, was a maid to one of the guests at the hotel. The pair sought out her and found her in the dining room.

Running across the room, he threw his arms around her quickly and printed a kiss on her cheek. The woman alarmed the guests, and the masculine contingent, making all kinds of threats against Fedderman, made a hurried search through the building, but the assaiant had escaped. He was caught soon afterward.

Nan Marries Leon Martin.

Surrounded by members of her family, Nan Patterson, the Floradora girl, was married at noon Saturday to her former husband, Leon G. Martin. At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon they left for New York, where they will live and where Martin is assistant manager in the Cambridge Court hotel. Rev. George F. Dudley, of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church, performed the ceremony.

It was the old gray haired father who stayed by Nan when she was a prisoner in the Tombs that led her a second time to the rector to take the marriage vows. No one seemed so anxious for the knot to be tied as he. He had fixed the evergreen about the stuffy parlor where the ceremony was to be performed; placed a screen before the ceremony took place; in fact, had asked Dr. Dudley to perform the ceremony, after Rev. Dr. Fishburn, of the Mount Pleasant Congregational church, had sent word that he would be unable to officiate.

"This is the end of our troubles," said he after the ceremony.

Nan wore a modest blue dress, the same one she wore to New York in the afternoon. The ceremony was as short as it could be made, there being no giving away of the bride. After the little Milburn and Taylor nieces and nephews had finished kissing and caressing Martin, for he shared the display for affection with Nan, he sauntered into the front room and resumed smoking cigarettes. He had spent the morning studying Father Patterson's decorative genius through cigarette smoke. The family partook of a luncheon shortly after the wedding and then Nan and her husband began arrangements for the departure for New York.

The Renewal a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic which should avert such serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

¶In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. ¶We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. ¶We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. ¶New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. Feet Swollen to Immense Size.

"I had kidney trouble so bad that I could not work," says J. J. Cox of Valley View, Ky., "my feet were swollen to immense size and I was confined to my bed and physicians were unable to give me any relief. My doctor finally prescribed Foley's Kidney Cure which made a well man of me." C. M. Parrish.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science is able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ike of Wood, Tod. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble. C. M. Parrish.

Woman's Rights.

Many women suffer all sorts of so called "female weaknesses" just because their kidneys are out of order and they have a right to know Foley's Kidney Cure is just what is needed by most ailing women. C. M. Parrish.

Useful Hints.

To wash white lace boil some rice to pulp, and, having diluted this with water, wash the lace in it. Rinse in a fresh supply of rice water and then pin out to dry. This method of cleaning lace makes it a good color and just stiff enough.

Windows that are too long and narrow for the height of the room may be widened and lowered in effect by hanging draperies on either side against the wall.

Very strong tea will stop the bleeding from a cut.

A small stiff brush such as artists use when painting in oils is excellent for brushing the dust from crevices in velvet trimming and from between ribbon folds.

Very scanty fulness is the rule now for all window or door hangings and none at all for door and vestibule panels.

If a cloth is too old to be patched thus it may be cut up to make tray cloths or smaller table covers.

Old pillow slips can be converted into dust bags for covering curtains that are folded and put away.

One of the most successful ways to darn wools and silks is to take ravelings from the material. Split the thread into the needle with the help of wax. In this way the thread or silk matches the goods exactly.

He left on Monday for that place to secure his outfit, and his territory will be in Pennsylvania and his family will continue to reside in Bellefonte. He will have an established trade and a good firm which makes his work easy to take up. At present no one has secured his former position.

—One time in discussing the trials of a ministers life, Rev. Morris Swartz concluded by saying. "I have made up my mind that if success does not come to me it will be the fault of Morris Swartz and not of his trustees or congregation." The wisdom that led him from one success to another until he now ranks as one of the most popular young ministers in the conference. He has been asked to accept the pastorate of the Bloomsburg Methodist church, as Dr. Eveland leaves there to become president of Dickinson Seminary. In case Morris accepts this call, Rev. Edgar Heckman, of State College, has been offered the charge at Patton.

—Bellefonte is soon to lose another of her young men, a fact which only goes to emphasize the assurance that they are educated here to fill any one of the many walks of life; and to the outside world we say: If you need a man for anything at all, come to Bellefonte and you can be supplied. The person referred to in this instance is Harris B. Heylmun, for a number of years past one of the very efficient clerks in the first National bank, who will leave Bellefonte in a month or five weeks to accept the responsible position as cashier of the Citizens National bank at Indiana, Pa., a new institution just being established. May success attend him.

CHAPEL OUT OF DEBT.

Pleasant View Chapel Held Big Rally Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon the little congregation at Pleasant View held a highly successful rally in their little chapel and as a result an indebtedness of about one hundred dollars was subscribed and the little congregation who have struggled so hard are now on sound footing.

The meeting began at 3:30 and the attendance was fair. Rev. George Israel Brown, of St. John's Episcopal church delivered an appropriate address after which there were addresses by Mr. Emanuel Corman, and Wm. Thomas

To much praise cannot be bestowed on Mr. Emanuel Noll for his hard work in raising the money to build this chapel and finally pay off the debt. If all our Christian workers in other churches were as energetic and faithful as Mr. Noll what an uplifting it would give Christianity in our midst.

A collection was taken up at the Sunday service and it amounted to $10.50. We earnestly hope that Pleasant View Chapel may continue to prosper and be a power for good in our community.

A BEAUTIFUL JEWEL.

Presented to Eminent Sir Wilson I. Fleming

Wilson I. Fleming, of this city, is the proud possessor of a handsome jewel, the like of which no other Bellefonte citizen has had the honor to receive. Mr. Fleming has just recently retired from the office of Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania About a week ago he was presented by the Grand Commandery with the official jewel of the Grand Commander. It is a beautiful piece of workmanship and Mr. Fleming is justly proud, not only of the jewel itself, but of the signal honor it confers. The cross and crown are studded with five beautiful diamonds. Handsomely engraved on the pendant is the following inscription "To Past Right Eminent Sir Wilson I. Fleming for eminent services in the cause of Christian Knighthood, May 24, 1905, A. O. 987., A. O. E. P., 108"

Honor More to Her Than Love For Child.

Fidelity to her employer was stronger than mother love with Mrs. Clara Richter, who appeared before Magistrate Whiteman in the West Side court, New York, Thursday and accused her 19-year-old son, Edward, of [illegible]

"I had to make [illegible] judge," said Mrs. Richter, who was weeping. I am trusted with the care of my employer's house, and I must be faithful, even if my son suffers."

Mrs. Richter said that the boy had pilfered books and an oil painting worth $50 from the home of William Benjamin, who is traveling in Europe with his family.

"He is my own son," sobbed Mrs. Richter as she threw her arms about the boy, "but honor comes first."

Young Richter promised to return the stolen articles, and the case was continued.

An Attempted Robbery.

Sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning a burglar or burglars attempted to rob the mill office of Gamble, Gheen & Co., at this place. They removed the putty from a pane of glass in one of the office windows then reached in an unlocked the window. Once inside they broke open a draw in the desk but failed to get any money as there was none there. Then they removed the screws out of the hinges in the safe and destroyed the combination. They were evidently intending to dynamite the safe but were frightened away before their object was attained.

The robber evidently carried an umbrella and carefully set it down beside the window as the dripping were noted on the floor the next morning.

LARIMER—SCHOFIELD.

Beautiful Nuptial Event at the Home of Hon. James Schofield.

The home of Hon. James Schofield on South Thomas street was the scene of a pretty social event Wednesday morning. It was the occasion of the giving in marriage of Mr. Schofield's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jessmon Schofield to Mr. Charles Larimer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Larimer of this city. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends were in attendance.

It was just 11 o'clock when the strains of Mendlesohn's wedding march were heard as played by Mrs. Ross A. Parker, a sister of the bride. The ceremony took place in the south parlor which was beautifully adorned with golden rod and ferns. Here Rev. J. A. Wood, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church was stationed and with the beautiful ring ceremony he united in holy bonds of wedlock the happy young couple. The wedding procession entered the parlor in the following order. First came the ushers Mr. Edward Schofield, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Lee Jones, of Osceola. Then came the groom accompanied by the best man Mr. William G Patterson, of Clearfield. Then came the brides-maid's Miss Nan Schofield a sister of the bride and Miss Li[illegible] Bellefonte. Following these was the matron of honor, Mrs. Lee R. Larimer, of Jersey Shore. Then the little flower girl, Miss Eleanor Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Parker, looking very pretty and petite, came strewing flowers in the pathway of the bride who came last looking very beautiful and attractive. The scene was a remarkably pretty one and will be long remembered by those present.

Following the ceremony and congratulations a delightful wedding breakfast was served the caterer being James A. Summers.

The costumes of the bridal party were as follows:

The bride—White landedowne over white taffeta and bridal veil caught with a beautiful pin of pearls and diamonds the gift of the groom She carried a boquet of white bridal roses.

Mrs. Lee Larimer wore a costume of white point-de-esprit over white taffeta. Carried a shower boquet of pink bridal roses.

The brides-maids wore blue landsdowne and carried shower boquets of white asters.

Little Eleanor Parker the flower girl, looked sweet in white india linen and carried a basket of white asters.

The bridal party sat down to a delightful repast. The table was splendidly decorated and in the centre was an immense wedding cake sent by the brides uncles, Frank and Allen Schofield of New York.

The happy young couple were conveyed to the train in a gaily decorated carriage drawn by young men and they were given a royal send off. They left on a wedding tour to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. They expect to locate in Clearfield where the groom is in charge of the Huntingdon & Clearfield Telephone office. Both the bride and groom are very popular young people, and this paper joins in the congratulations and in the words of Rip Van Winkle "May they live long and prosper."

The presents received by the bride are numerous and costly, consisting of cut glass, silver ware, china, linen and money.

The guests from a distance were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Larimer, Jersey Shore; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McNitt of Lewistown; Miss Nellie Barns and Miss Anna Weber, Howard; George E. Jones, Osceola; J. C. Mignot, Wm. F. Patterson, Clearfield; Lee Jones, Osceola; Rev. John Schofield, New York; Mrs. Chas. L. Peters and Mrs. S. E. Smith, Milesburg; Mrs. John Evarts and daughter Grace of Vicksburg.
